

OVERVIEW

The Osborne Interim Management Privacy Policy is based on a fundamental respect for privacy as defined in The Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act and any applicable provincial legislation.

Please note that Osborne Interim Management and its affiliated companies may link to external websites; it is strongly encourage that you read their privacy policies and always use caution when asked to divulge personal information.

USE OF COOKIES

The Osborne Interim Management website uses cookies to track general user trends and patterns. A cookie is a small piece of information that a website stores on your computer. It is retrieved automatically whenever you return and some of its contents are stored in log files that are then used to generate periodic statistical reports. These reports help us to evaluate and improve our website by tracking global indicators such as the total number of visitors, total pages viewed, most popular documents retrieved, and so on. Most browsers are initially set up to accept cookies. You can reset your browser to refuse all cookies or to alert you when one is being sent. However, some parts of the Osborne Interim Management website may not work properly if you choose not to accept cookies. For additional information on cookies, see the Help instructions on your browser.

COLLECTION AND USE OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

While visiting the Osborne Interim Management website you may request that information be emailed because you are interested in using our services or in joining our team. The information gathered in these databases of information requests is collected on a voluntary basis. Personally information you choose to post in the databases is not stored online and will therefore not be accessible to anyone on the Internet.

Osborne Interim Management does not sell any personal information to outside organizations or groups. In the exceptional case of a request by law enforcement authorities to view our website's log files, no attempt at identifying individual visitors to our site will occur unless a judicial order is received.

CONFIDENTIALITY

Throughout the website visitors are given an opportunity to provide us with feedback. When you provide us with feedback, we will not share your name with others. We will try our best to ensure that your confidentiality is protected.

SUBJECT TO CHANGE

This Privacy Policy is subject to change at anytime. The date of the last revision to the Privacy Policy is posted at the bottom of this page.
